Top 10 Imperatives for the AIHA Exposure Risk Management Process Presentation Recording

Course Description:
Each of us seeks to ensure that we are effective in our efforts to protect workers from harmful exposures. We are also acutely aware of the need to be efficient in our efforts to do so. This one hour video highlights ten of the most critical success factors that must be incorporated into our exposure risk management processes if we are to be both effective at ensuring that workers are protected and efficient in our use of resources.

Course Outcomes
Upon completion of the video, participants will understand and be able to describe:
Ten critical success factors for an effective and efficient exposure risk management process.
The importance of a well defined decision statistic.
How the use of AIHA's exposure risk categories increases the effectiveness and efficiency of an exposure risk management process.
How to improve the accuracy of exposure risk decisions.
