Instructor Bio

Prior to joining LafargeHolcim, the world's largest building materials corporation, as the global industrial hygiene manager, Nancy worked for AbbVie pharmaceutical in the same capacity for almost 6 years. She has invested over 25 years to practicing occupational hygiene in a variety of high hazard industries. As a self-employed consultant for 15 years, she provided services to industries such as the automotive, military, hospital, electronic, food, pharmaceutical, chemical, and housing industries. She has also provided legal expert witnessing for nationally-profiled, catastrophic incidents.

In her volunteer professional life, Nancy currently serves on the Board of Directors for both the American Industrial Hygiene Association and the globally recognized American Board of Industrial Hygiene Board of Directors and she continued to represent ABIH as the Chair of the Joint Occupational Hygiene Ethics Education Committee after completing her term in 2010. She is an active member of the British and Irish Occupational Hygiene Societies as a conference speaker and organizational liaison.
